

30000 AND COUNTING!

Since 2005 over 30,000 municipal and private sector employees have attended AORS education, training and professional development programs. AORS is the most important 'grass roots' public works Association in Ontario. Undeniably—on behalf of our membership and associates—we are methodically meeting our mandate including:

- ▶ regularly identifying, examining and reviewing the training, educational, and professional development needs of Ontario local government/private sector public works employees, and, where possible, implementing applicable programs.
- ▶ promoting and encouraging public works training and professional development in Ontario municipalities, the private sector and amongst the AORS membership.
