Training for municipal managers, supervisors, and those preparing for leadership roles

Local municipal operations require experienced, highly trained professional personnel who can efficiently execute the corporate blueprint. Strong, committed leadership at all organizational levels ensures the focused development and delivery of essential community services. Therefore, we proudly introduce the 2022 Public Works Leadership Development Program (8 modules)—designed to benefit current and aspiring local government and public works managers who want to hone their management and leadership skills.

➤ LEARNING APPROACH

The bottom line is that you are busy and you have selected this program because you are motivated to learn and develop new skills. We have tailored each module to ensure that the content is relevant, the environment is relaxed and that we involve you in the learning process with practical group discussions/activities, functional simulations (i.e. case studies) and problem solving. Our very competent instructors are fun, approachable and use experiential learning methods to tap into your practical knowledge.

“ I was quite impressed with the content of the courses; I felt the small group workshops kept individuals engaged as I met new people from municipalities small and large. Kudos to AORS for being forced online and still putting together a great course.

PWLDP INSTRUCTIONAL TEAM

The Association of Ontario Road Supervisors (AORS) introduced the Public Works Leadership Development Program (PWLDP) in December of 2007 as a standalone program to address an identified gap in the leadership skills of public works supervisors. The 8 individual modules that make up the PWLDP were designed to give these supervisors a high-level view of the main aspects of their day to day jobs with a focus on the skills required to effectively manage and lead teams. In 2013, the modules were made prerequisites for the different levels of the Certified Road Supervisor (CRS) designation. Over the last decade, the PWLDP has evolved into a sought-after set of leadership modules, successfully preparing the municipal leaders of the future. Hundreds of municipal managers, supervisors and team leaders have completed or are currently enrolled in the PWLDP.

Each module is tailored to ensure the content is relevant, the learning environment is relaxed, and the learning process includes practical group discussions, activities, and case studies. Each module includes a final exam, developed to ensure learning transfer. The opportunity to network and to learn from each other and the PWLDP instructors is paramount to the success of the program and is a main benefit for participants who take part in the PWLDP modules.

AORS is committed to providing participants of the PWLDP with high quality, professional trainers and will continue to work hard to ensure our instructors have current leadership experience in municipal or public works as well as a wealth of experience in training and facilitation. The following instructors are committed to helping trainees of the PWLDP achieve their academic or leadership goals and are dedicated to delivering the PWLDP modules with enthusiasm and excellence.
